ECONOMIC IGNORANCE RAMPANT IN REFORMERS ...

MOVING? Please use form inside rear and give full information. Reading list is run on Friday for following week.

Every so often somebody tries to straighten me out for criticism of wrong headed reformers who tackle our world and try to remake it to suit their ideas as to just what they figure is the right track for our Grate Society, especially business, to be on. It don't make no never mind what kind of business or institution they tackle they figure it's people don't th' job need the stick jacked outta them and they ort to operate accordin' to th' Reformer's ideas.

We got an old sayin' in th' newspaperin' business that says anyone who ever ate in a restaurant, stayed in a hotel or read a newspaper knows more about how things ort to be run than the folks doin' it. All are perilous economic enterprises, and if you don't suit your customers you ain't long for that particular world. In every case when th' Reformers sink their teeth in th' Frobbin', their ignorance blossoms.

Danger of Foot-and-Mouth Disease Plague Being Imported to Clean Countries Grows As Illegal Shipments Are Increasing

Washington — Smuggled semen which could carry the foot-and-mouth disease (FMD) virus, was a major topic of concern to animal health officials gathered here at the Pan American Health Organization (PAHO) for the 11th Inter-American Meeting on Foot-and-Mouth Disease and Zoonoses Control.

Representatives of the Ministers of Agriculture from over 80 western hemisphere countries accepted a resolution prepared by the representatives of CIAGA, a Latin-American livestock producers' organization, and co-sponsored by the U. S. representatives to PAHO. It called for development of safe procedures for importing semen throughout the hemisphere and for passage of laws allowing for prosecution of persons who illegally import semen.

FMD is an economically devastating disease of all cloven-hoofed animals, including many wildlife species such as deer. The FMD virus can survive in live animals and also in their by-products, such as semen and milk. If FMD virus is imported and used for artificial insemination, it could start a large scale outbreak of the disease.

Panama, Central American countries, Mexico, the United States and Canada have been free of FMD since the early 1950's, but the disease is widespread throughout certain countries in South America. PAHO, which is part of the United Nations' World Health Organization, has maintained an FMD center in Brazil since 1952 to conduct research and aid in the control of FMD in South America. The FMD-free member countries in PAHO and CIAGA expressed concern about the dramatically increased trade in semen potentially contaminated with FMD virus.

"We are in full agreement with the cattle industry that new bloodlines are vitally important to the efficient production of animal protein," said Dr. F. J. Mulhern, administrator of U. S. Department of Agriculture's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service. "One of the most effective ways of introducing new bloodlines is through artificial insemination. Our concern is that all countries in the western hemisphere work together to establish procedures for importing semen safely so that the national herds we are trying to improve are not exposed to the risk of FMD."

"In addition, laws prohibiting the illegal importation of semen are necessary. These laws should provide for stiff penalties to be imposed on people caught smuggling semen."

"The countries that are free of FMD feel tremendously threatened by the virtually uncontrolled smuggling of semen going on in the Western Hemisphere today. We feel it must be stopped if we are to produce sufficient animal protein to feed our people."

Many leaders also report getting 50 lbs. extra gain for as little as $12.50 head cost. Evergreen Special Creep balances unequal milk supplies, making calves more uniform. It helps the calves, too, when calves are in the creep feeder, they give the cows a lot of rest. Often adding 40-50 lbs. weight loss on the mother cow. Put your pencil to it and see: it's more profitable to add extra pounds of profit to calves you already have, than to add extra cows to your herd. Krueger Bills Aim To Improve Beef Import Conditions

Krueger's background in ranching and those who have watched his legislative efforts in behalf of Texas cattlemen know better.

One Krueger proposal, H.R. 8884, calls for more specific labeling of beef for consumers and requires inspection standards for imported meat to approximate more closely the standards for domestic beef. The other bill sets a ceiling on the import quota of beef.

Currently, imported meat which undergoes further processing or packaging in the U.S. is no longer required to be labeled as imported, leaving consumers uncertain as to whether they are purchasing domestic or imported beef.

Farm, Ranch Reports Needed For Better Statistical Figures

Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff. This is part of the continuous effort of keeping track of Texas' big-gest business — agriculture.

The information gathered through the questionnaire and interviews provides the basis for determining the acreage devoted to the various crops and midyear livestock numbers for the state of Texas and for each county.

With the depressed prices of many agricultural commodities, it is more important than ever that the statistics be as accurate as possible to aid producers in making the best production and marketing decisions. They are also essential in enacting wise legislation affecting agriculture and are used in determining the national program acreage and payment levels to producers under the various commodity programs. The primary beneficiaries of accurate estimates are farmers and ranchers themselves.

Prompt and accurate completion of the survey forms provides for more reliable estimates of Texas' largest industry — agriculture. It also helps to reduce survey costs.

All individual farm and ranch information is kept confidential, and only state and county summaries become part of the final published estimate.

This is a cooperative effort of the USDA's Economics, Statistics, and Cooperatives Service and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Bergland Announces New Consolidated All-Risk Farm Insurance Plan

Washington, April 28 — Secretary of Agriculture Bob Bergland today proposed a comprehensive, nationwide all-risk crop insurance reform bill which he said would provide better protection for farmers than present disaster programs at no additional cost to the government.

The proposed Farm Production Protection Act would consolidate four present disaster assistance programs into one comprehensive, share-the-risk program to insure crops against natural disasters and some other untrollable risks. Coverage would be provided the first year for 8 new crops which account for 89 percent of all cropland acreage, with the potential for expansion over 10 years to cover all farm products, including livestock.

Bergland said: "The program we are proposing would consolidate many of these programs, increase protection available to farmers, give them a choice of protection levels and make that protection affordable for most producers."

The new program will cover the major costs of production at a reasonable premium. It is designed to provide dependable, year-after-year coverage with continued eligibility for farmers.

The plan receives speedy consideration in the Congress, the first crop that could be covered would be 1980 winter crops planted in the fall of 1979.

BRANGUS The Ideal Mother.

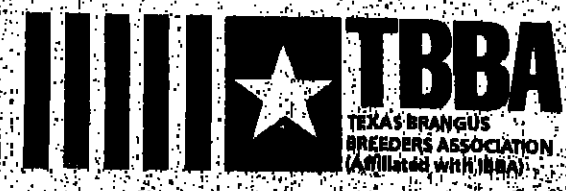

There's just one reason you need Brangus cows working for you—PROFIT! Brangus is America's number one brood cow, because she consistently produces calves that are in great demand by stockers, feeders, packers, and consumers. And this means consistent profit for you!

Brangus females mature early, calving as 2-year-olds with no problems, and they give a 20% milk production. They are excellent milk producers, and their calves are heavier, and do better than calves of other breeds. With Brangus females, you eliminate sunburned teats, sore eyes, and other disease and pest-related problems.

Only animals with a 3/8 Brahman-5/8 Angus heritage are true Brangus, for only this combination gives animals with the hardiness, adaptability, and high production that is consistently characteristic of the Brangus breed. If you want PROFIT, you need BRANGUS!

The Hereford tests will be conducted according to normal procedures with a 21-day warm-up followed by 140-day official testing period. Weights will be measured at regular intervals to provide data on average daily gain, weight per day of age and other related information. In addition,

Dear Fellow Cattleman:

We extend to you an invitation to the complete dispersion of my registered herd of Herefords.

I purchased the J. W. Waide herd of 76 brood cows in 1944. He started the herd in 1919 and all the cows I bought traced back to one Fairfax cow. Mr. Waide kept his heaviest heifers with the most beef conformation. He did not creep feed — so in his own way was keeping the daughters of the best milking cows. He was selecting for economic factors that have proven to be genetically transmitted from one generation to another.

I sent many bulls and heifers to the Texas A&M Research Station at Bal-morhea, Texas. We had the highest gaining sire group 13 of 18 years' of these tests with over 1000 bulls from 30 breeders competing.

The herd has been built on a solid foundation. Performance testing has been a part of our breeding program for over 30 years. Our cattle have performed well in many registered and commercial herds in the U.S. and other parts of the world. They have also competed successfully in top shows in recent years.

All of our cattle have been raised under West Texas range conditions which often times have been adverse. They are bred to perform. They have performed for us and our many customers. They will perform for you.

We hope you will attend our dispersion in San Angelo on May 15, at 9:00 a.m.

Texas Ends Screwworm Free Weeks With Hudspeth County Case

Mission - After a record 25 consecutive weeks without any known screwworms in Texas, specialists have identified a sample from a horse in Hudspeth County as screwworms. Dr. M. E. (Cotton) Meadows, Jr., director of the Texas and Plant Health Inspection Service, the sample was collected April 21 by Wiley C. Heath, DVM, of El Paso, Texas. The worms were "in a cut behind the heel" of a horse.

Dr. Heath treated the wound and collected the larvae near headquarters of Diamond A Cattle Co. about 48 miles east of El Paso on the Carlsbad Highway. The property is also known as the "Old Kerr Ranch."

Arkansas to Launch Intensified Brucellosis Eradication Program

Arkansas will be the first state in the Mississippi River valley to launch such a program. The state is embarking on a county-by-county intensified cattle brucellosis program. State and U.S.
Department of Agriculture animal health officials will open the program October 1 in the Southwestern Arkansas counties. This was announced by Dr. Allen G. Spreitzer, area veterinarian in charge of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service operations in Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma. More than $2 million in additional federal funds will be available for the two-year undertaking, Dr. Spreitzer said.

Check Credentials of Persons Claiming to Be IRS Employees

Taxpayers should not let the credentials of all persons identifying themselves as Internal Revenue Service employees, the IRS said. From time to time, individuals have posed as employees of the Internal Revenue Service to collect money for what these impostors refer to as unpaid taxes.

Taxpayers should bear in mind that every public contact IRS employees requires distinctive identification and is required to produce identification when conducting official business. If, after seeing an employee's identification, a taxpayer still doubts the employee's authority, the taxpayer should immediately contact his or her nearest IRS office.
